SUPRA Swift XLR - Sturdy & fully shielded

Supra patented XLR connector features 24K gold-plated pins for maximum conductivity and a fully shielded housing for superior RFI immunity. It is designed for easy assembly with no loose screws, no separate shells, and no parts that require pre-assembly before attaching the cable. This is a robust, professional-grade connector intended for studio and stage use, while also delivering excellent performance in high-end home Hi-Fi systems. It is the standard connector used on our pre-terminated flagship interconnect cables. Color-coded markings are included for easy channel identification.
